

Logic - Question Everything Lyrics

Artist: Logic

Album: Spectator

Look, who said that E equaled Mc squared?
Who is to say that the world isn't square?
Who's to say heaven ain't there?
Nobody knows, who cares.
And why is poverty even a issue (why?) Why don't the people who got it wanna give you?
Who knows if Jay Z is a mason?
Who knows the real location of the gold that they're chasing?
And when will mankind learn to be patient?
And stop the wrong moves it's making, and who said a doctor is a God?
The N.
H.
S.
is a business, and who gets robbed?
And whose really better off?
The brother with the full time job or the brother he shot.
Who says what is true?
And how can any other man that breaths air be over youth, why doesn't the media show all the negative and who believes the news they're telling us?
Question everything in life that we're living is a lie because it's just not clouds in the sky, and Illuminati is not just an eye, and
I know that Adam and Eve was a lie.
So I question everything and never take another man's word and relie on what another man has heard, I believe in my self repeat that.
See because whose really had enough and whose really though?
And whose scared?
If there's life on the Moon just leave them there.
How can we really get prepared?
For something we don't know is there, and why don't we share and why does a man need to be a millionaire?
And why can't we wear what we 'wanna wear without the robots who stop and stare?
And how come we're unaware?
And why do people say they want to know about it when they don't really care?
And how does the unconscious become conscious?
How can I break it if I never promised, and where's logic?
And is Drake a zionist?
Because the printer for it ain't, and I don't know what [?] is.
Hell yeah fucking right, I keep screaming Free free Palestine, I keep screaming Free free Palestine,
Question everything in life that we're living is a lie because it's just not clouds in the sky, and Illuminati is not just an eye, and
I know that Adam and Eve was a lie.
So I question everything and never take another man's word and relie on what another man has heard, I believe in my self repeat that.
Tell me why Africa is poor despite, the land is so broad and wide, feel all the resources they used to make the things that we buy.
Tell me why they just survived (why?) when all that we need is to improvise, all that they need to improvise.
Question everything in life that we're living is a lie because it's just not clouds in the sky, and Illuminati is not just an eye, and
I know that Adam and Eve was a lie.
So I question everything and never take another man's word and relie on what another man has heard, I believe in my self repeat that, I believe in my self repeat that.
I don't believe in what they tell me, fam.
I don't believe in all the stuff they want to put on the news, I don't believe in all the Internet drama.
I do my own research, I look in to my own sources to overstand and understand the plan, is to lock it down and keep you brainwashed.
But make sure your brain is washed!
